DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This is a two story duplex building with each half being two bays wide and three bays in depth. To the rear is a "T" shaped wing, two bays square. Both front and back sections have low slope metal "A" frame roofs. There are chimneys extending above the front east bays of each house. This building is detached on the west side only. All brickwork is common bond. The doorways occupy outside bays. 235 has a wide door with six graduated panels. 235A has two narrow glass paneled doors. Above both doorways are carved architrave with tiny dentils and round arched glass overlights. The first floor windows are of large 1/1 sash with round arches. On the second floor, two small round arched windows occupy the inner bays. All front windows and doorways have three row header arches. On the outer second floor bays are three section bay windows with protruding cornices and dentils beneath. The wing windows are 6/6 sash with wood lintels and sills. The doors to the wing have overlights. A divided balcony runs along the rear of the wing. A three string brick cornice runs along the front roofline with the center row consisting of header bricks protruding upright. 235 has a massive brick porch while 235A has a regular brick porch with iron railing. The fieldstone foundation extends only up to the pavement level but the structure is built high necessitating five step porches. The basement has rather high front windows and entrances under the steps. The pavement is of brick herringbone design.
